

Individual Assignment: The "Pathfinder" Interview Guidelines

Course: Zijing College Course (2): Guide to Bespoke Path

Weight: 30% of Final Grade (Pass/Fail System)

Overview and Objectives

The primary goal of this "Pathfinder" assignment is to empower you to explore professional growth strategies and academic milestones through direct engagement with leading academics.

Core Task

- The Interview: You are required to conduct a 1-on-1 interview. The interview shall be conducted in either English or Chinese, preferably in English.
- The Interviewee: The interviewee must be a faculty member selected from one of the 11 supporting departments.
- The Topic: Focus the conversation on their professional growth, academic milestones, insights into their discipline, and advice for undergraduate students.

Deliverable Formats & Reference Examples

You must submit your final work in ONE of the following two formats. To help you understand the expected quality and style, please refer to the provided examples:

Option A: Written Format (Interview Article)

A high-quality interview article, written in a feature story format, that summarizes the key insights gathered during your conversation. It should not be a strict verbatim transcript, but rather a well-narrated story highlighting the professor's journey and wisdom. Please prepare your final article in English, or in English accompanied by a Chinese translation.

- Reference Example 1 (Chinese): 为先记者站 | 王秀梅：在挑战中成长，成为创新与突破的代言人
- Reference Example 2 (English): Light People: Prof. Eric Mazur speaks about ultrafast optics and education

Option B: Video Format

A polished, edited video recording of your interview. The video should have good audio quality, clear visuals, and preferably include subtitles and a coherent narrative flow. If the interview is conducted in Chinese, please consider adding English subtitles.

- Reference Example: Conversation with Alan E Willner

Submission Instructions

- Platform: The interview article or video shall be directly submitted via Web Learning.
- Deadline: 23:59:59, June 14th, 2026.

Public Outreach and Publication

Outstanding works are not just for grading—they are meant to be seen!

Exceptional articles and videos will be curated and published on Zijing College's official public platforms, including WeChat, YouTube, and Instagram. This is a great opportunity to showcase your communication skills and contribute to the college's academic community.
